Research Interests

I am interested in learning-based robotics, focusing on robotic manipulation and physical interaction. My research aims to enable robots to acquire skills through self-supervised and trial-and-error learning, integrating visual, tactile, and proprioceptive inputs for robust perception and control, while leveraging classical algorithmic and planning methods for efficiency and reliability. Currently, I am working on algorithmic planning for robotic manipulation tasks. I am also broadly interested in autonomous systems that can operate reliably under uncertainty.

Experience

Rutgers University

Research Assistant (Remote)

Topics: Multi-Robot Task Planning, Industrial Rearrangement, Robotics

Advisor: Prof. Jingjin Yu

New Brunswick, NJ

Jun. 2025 – Present

Shanghai Artificial Intelligence Research Institute

Research Assistant

Topics: Robotics Perception, 3D Reconstruction, Manipulation

Advisor: Dr. Tianrui Shen

Shanghai, China

Jul. 2025 – Oct. 2025

Huazhong University of Science and Technology

Research Assistant

Topics: Multi-Modal Robot Learning for Manipulation in Open Environments

Advisor: Prof. Guohui Li

Wuhan, China

Apr. 2025 – Jul. 2025

Wuhan University

Research Assistant

Topics: Computer Vision, Image Recognition

Advisor: Prof. Min Peng

Wuhan, China

Oct. 2024 – Mar. 2025

China College Engineering Practice and Innovation Competition

Team Leader

Provincial First Prize, Ranked 2nd Nationwide

Supervisor: Prof. Yi Zhong

China

Jun. 2023 – Nov. 2023

Awards

Provincial First Prize, China College Engineering Practice and Innovation Competition

Ranked 2nd Nationwide

2023

Academic Excellence Scholarship

Wuhan University of Technology

2023, 2024, 2025

Outstanding Student Award

Wuhan University of Technology

2023, 2024, 2025

Leadership & Service

Student Affairs Director

School of Information Engineering, Wuhan University of Technology

Sep. 2022 – Jun. 2025

Student Union Leadership Member

Wuhan University of Technology

Sep. 2022 – Jun. 2025
